Affidavit of Henry Harrison [W78] of Nansemond County, Virginia. [24 Sep 1833]

The affiant being duly sworn, deposeth and saith, that he is now Seventy-eight years of age, that he lived in the County of Nansemond during the whole period of the revolutionary war; that he was well acquainted with Timothy Langston [VAS3836], and John March [R6900], and Martin Redmon, and William Herren [VAS3835] – and that all four of them enlisted as privates in the Virginia Continental line for three years nearly about the commencement of the revolutionary war, and went from this county, he thinks, to the north and served their time of three years out as he has heard them say – that they came home about 1780 or '81 and again enlisted for during the war; that they then went off to the north and did not return home until after peace had been declared; and that the above named Langston, and March, and Redmon, and Herren were neighbours of the affiant which enables him the more readily to remember, and thus to certify to their services.

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Henry Harrison". The signature is written in black ink and includes a long, horizontal flourish at the end.
