

INDEX TO REVOLUTIONARY PENSION AND BOUNTY-LAND DOCUMENTS
AT THE LIBRARY OF VIRGINIA

Compiled by C. Leon Harris Revised 11 November 2023.

The names listed below are from the online indexes of bounty-land claims (BL), rejected claims (RC), and pension claims (P) in the Library of Virginia. On 5 June 2019 the Library of Virginia changed the URL of these collections, so links in transcriptions prior to that date will not work. From time to time other arbitrary changes occur. As of the above date the following procedures and links were working.

- 1) Find the name in the list below and copy it to your clip board.
- 2) Note whether the document is a bounty-land claim (BL), rejected claim (RC), or pension claim (P).
- 3) Return to this page and click the appropriate link below.
- 4) In the upper right click "SIMPLE SEARCH" then "ADVANCED SEARCH"
- 5) In the new window click "+ ADD A NEW LINE."
- 6) Paste the name into the new line, or type it exactly as given in the list.
- 7) Hit Enter or click Search. The results will appear farther down.
- 8) Click on either the name or the green "Available Online."
- 9) In the new window scroll down and click "View" in blue.
- 10) A new window will appear with links to the TIFF images. Click on each one and download the image.

BL BOUNTY-LAND CLAIMS

("The act of the General Assembly passed on June 22, 1779, which established the Virginia Land Office, also provided for the rewarding of lands promised as bounty for specified Revolutionary War military service. The purpose of the bounty land system was to encourage longer military service. In order to qualify for bounty land, a soldier had to serve at least three (3) years continuously in the State or Continental line. Militia service did not count. Servicemen submitted various documents such as affidavits of commanding officers and fellow soldiers and discharge papers in order to substantiate their service record. When the claim was proved, the Governor's Office issued a certificate to the register of the Land Office authorizing him to issue a warrant. The first warrant was issued in 1782 and the last in 1876 as heirs of warrantees continued to seek lands for additional service. Land awarded as bounty was in the present-day states of Ohio and Kentucky.")

To handle the large number of applications, the Virginia legislature in 1834 authorized the appointment of a commissioner to collect and summarize the evidence for the Governor and Council to act upon. John H. Smith, having been appointed in 1832 to organize books and records in the Virginia Capitol, was commissioned by Gov. Littleton Waller Tazewell on 9 January 1834 to fill the post of Commissioner of Virginia Revolutionary Claims (not "Commander," as the Library of Virginia online summaries erroneously state).

Applicants received 100 acres for three years of service as a Private, and 200 acres for serving as a Private to the end of the war. An additional one-sixth portion was allowed for each year of service over six years.

RC REJECTED CLAIMS

https://lva.primo.exlibrisgroup.com/discovery/search?query=any,contains,Military%20Records%20Virginia,AND&query=any,contains,Revolutionary%20War%20Rejected%20Claims,AND&tab=Digital&search_scope=DIGITAL&vid=01LVA_INST:01LVA&lang=en&mode=advanced&offset=0

(Claims of applicants were rejected if they failed to prove sufficient military service. Many claimants did have significant military service but not enough to qualify for bounty land or, in some cases, additional land.)

P PENSION CLAIMS

https://lva.primo.exlibrisgroup.com/discovery/search?query=any,contains,Military%20Records%20Virginia,AND&query=any,contains,Revolutionary%20War%20Virginia%20State%20Pensions,AND&tab=Digital&search_scope=DIGITAL&vid=01LVA_INST:01LVA&lang=en&mode=advanced&offset=0

("During its session begun in October 1777 the General Assembly authorized the payment of pensions to disabled soldiers and the widows of men killed during the war. The auditor of public accounts maintained lists of pensioners that he sent to clerks for verification. He also issued warrants for the disbursement of pension funds. A few of the pensions are for French and Indian war service.”)

In the list of names below, notes in brackets indicate the file numbers of records transcribed at revwarapps.org. For Virginia applicants who applied for federal pensions and bounty land, we use the file number assigned for those applications, which have the prefix BLWt, R, S, W or X. Otherwise we have assigned a number with the prefix VAS. At present many of the online images are illegible, divided across two frames, partly missing, or filed under the wrong name. In cases where we were unable to transcribe the online images, some information may still be found on the index cards. Although the Library of Virginia lists all the documents under the heading of the Revolutionary War, a few pertain to soldiers in other wars and sometimes to civilians. These are not generally transcribed at revwarapps.org. We have merged files from different sources (federal pension, state pension, bounty-land, and rejected claims) when it appears they pertain to the same soldier, but it is possible that two or more soldiers with the same or similar names are combined erroneously in a single file or by us in our transcriptions.

Names marked as “nothing online” have no record in the online collections indexed under that name, but they may be on microfilm at the Library of Virginia, and some information may be on the index cards. The soldier may also be mentioned in the records of other soldiers. Always use the search feature at revwarapps.org to find information on any soldier of interest.
