[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Also, the handwriting of the original scribes often lends itself to varying interpretations. Users of this database are urged to view the original and to make their own decision as to how to decipher what the original scribe actually wrote. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. Folks are free to make non-commercial use this transcript in any manner they may see fit, but please extend the courtesy of acknowledging the transcriber—besides, if it turns out the transcript contains mistakes, the resulting embarrassment will fall on the transcriber. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading fails to catch all misinterpretations. I welcome and encourage folks to call those and any other errors to my attention.]

Madam:

I have to advise you, that from the records of this Bureau, it appears that James Christian of Cumberland County, North Carolina, served as a private in Captain Cooke's Company, Colonel Thomas Clarke's North Carolina Regiment, War of the Revolution and was allowed pension, on account of disability incurred in the service, at the rate of $60 per annum, from March 4, 1789. He died October the 11th, 1826.

The dates of his birth and service and nature of his disability are not of record, nor is there any data on file as to his family.

Said records also show that James Christian, Second, of Wake County, North Carolina, served as a private in the Army of the Revolution and was allowed pension on account of disability incurred in the service, at the rate of $30 per annum, from March 4, 1789. He died March 28, 1815.

The dates of his birth and service, names of his officers and nature of his disability are not alone record, nor is there any data on file as to his family.

Respectfully,

S/ Hays Haymaker

Acting Commissioner

¹ No file number having been assigned by the War Department to this file, and the veteran having served from North Carolina, I have assigned it the number NC15 for convenience purposes in building this database.
