At a Court of Hustings held for the City of Williamsburg at the Courthouse thereof on the 26th day of May 1834.

Upon the motion of George B Lightfoot, the court doth certify upon satisfactory testimony. To Wit, on the evidence of Robert Saunders Sen'r. a very old and highly respectable gentleman of this City, That Edward Digges entered into the army, early in the war of the revolution, and was a captain of Artillery in the State line, and so called and known, Whether he served to the end of the war I know not as I was in Virginia from the beginning of the year 1781 till September 1783 when I returned from the Southern Army. The said Captain Digges lived several years after the revolutionary war and died in the lunatic Hospital in this City. The immediate relations of the said Edward Digges were three maiden sisters, all of whom I knew, and well remember, two of them died before him, and Mary Digges the surviving sister, died also in this city, neither of these ladies were ever married. – I have always understood that said Edward Digges was connected by blood with the late Dudley Digges of this City and the late Colo. William Digges of Denbeigh in the County of Warwick. – Dudley Digges had several children, some of whom survived him. Colo. Digges his eldest son lived and died in James City County, leaving several daughters one of whom married the late William Lightfoot of same County, one married Roscow Cole, of Williamsburg, and one married John Goodall, who survived her leaving one child a son. The other children of the said Dudley Digges were Mrs. Burwell of Bottetourt [sic: Botetourt County], Mrs. Nicholson of York, Mrs. Stratton of Northampton, Mrs. Nicholson wife of Andrew Nicholson of Richmond, and a son called Dudley, yet living as I learn in Louisa County. Colo. Digges of Denbeigh left two sons and two daughters, one of the daughters married a Mr. William Digges of Newport news, Elizabeth City and the other a Mr. Hill of Brunswick or Greenville. His sons Cole and William are both dead, the former leaving children and the latter none. Besides these relations, the said William Digges of Newports news and his brother Dudley now also of Louisa [Dudley Digges, probably pension application S8328], were supposed to be related to the said Captain Edward Digges. — Digges of Newports News has been dead many years leaving several married daughters, whom I never knew. The said Edward Digges called Captain Digges had been once married, survived his wife and left no child.

Pension Office/ March 13th 1851.

I hereby certify, that I have examined the claim of the administrator of Capt. Edward Digges, deceased, for Half-pay under the Act of 5th July 1832, for services in the Virginia State Line, in the War of the Revolution; and I find that the said Edward Digges was a Captain in the State Garrison Regiment, of the the Virginia State Line, from about the first of May 1777, to about the first day of June 1781, when he retired from the service as a supernumerary Officer [with insufficient troops for a command]; and that he was entitled to half-pay, at the rate of two hundred and forty dollars per annum, from the said first day of June 1781, to the first day of January 1800, during which year he died. Said amount is payable to Thomas E. Digges, administrator of the Estate of said Edward Digges, dec'd. under the Act of 5th July 1832.

My Dear Sir, Richm'd Oct. 10, 1851.

I have rec'd. your last letter in which you say you have mislaid my memo. for information & requesting me to write again.

I wrote at the request of the Rev. Mr. Woodbridge, who is the Ex'r. of Mrs Nicholson, who was one of the Heirs of Capt Edward Digges.

I wish to know if the Half-pay has not been paid for Digges' services, if so to whom, & when, & how much was allowed & paid to the person who rec'd it. I pray you to have me these questions answered as soon as possible, for I am sure it will not take 20 min. to do it in. Jno. G. Mosby[?]

Hanover Courthouse, 20th October 1856.

Sir [Judge Minot, Commissioner of Pensions]/ As attorney for the legal representative of Edward Digges deceased; I apply for the half pay for life, promised to the said Digges, by the legislature of Virginia [obligation later assumed by the United States], for his services as a Captain in the State line; and, directed by the act of congress passed 5th July 1832, to be paid to his legal representative. With the evidence before him that Capt. Digges died in the city of Williamsburg, and that letters of administration on his estate had been granted to John Goodall, your predecessor, James E. Heath allowed it to a man claiming under the authority of the county court of Fauquier, when he knew that that court held no jurisdiction over the estate of a man who did not die in the county of Fauquier. This act of the commissioner of pensions, being illegal, if not fraudulent, is nul, and void, and the claim of my client, who is the legal representative of Capt. Edward Digges, is valid, and due, under the act of congress of 5th July 1832. Col. Digges, the grandfather of Mrs Henley was the uncle of Capt. Digges. Digges of Fauquier, is not an heir of Capt. Digges, and is not recognised as entitled to any portion of the Strip allowed at the land office, to the heirs of Capt. Digges, and therefore, has no claim for his half pay.

Richard Randolph, Atty for W. L. Henley.

[An unsigned note in the federal file reads: "John Godall died in 1840 or 1841 The evidence now adduced was before the Office at the time claim was admitted.]

I Robert Saunders, of the City of Williamsburg in Virginia, now at the age of seventy and upwards, being requested by some of the Representatives of the late Capt'n. Edward Digges of the said City, to state what I know and recollect of the said Captain Edward Digges, do hereby certify, that I first knew the said Edward Digges when I entered the College of William and Mary in the year 1774: the said Digges was then a young man, several years apparently older than I was. About the year 1777, as well as I recollect, the said Edward Digges left College, and entered into the Army, and was as I believed a Captain during that year, either of Infantry or Artillery. I have always understood of Artillery. He was called Captain, and I have seen him in the uniform of an Officer in that year, and in the subsequent year of 1778. From that Period 'till the end of the war of the Revolution, I have no distinct remembrance of him or of his Military services.

From 1784 'till his death about the year 1800 I saw and heard of him, and he was commonly called Captain Digges. He was once married, and survived his wife, leaving no Children. Connected with him by blood were three maiden sisters; two of whom died before him unmarried. The third, Mary Digges, survived him, and has been dead several years, unmarried and without children. The said Edward Digges left many collateral Relations, most of whom I knew – and some of them are yet living. All which I certify and make known under my hand this twelfth day of August in the year Eighteen hundred and thirty three.

I William M. Moody of the City of Williamsburg and State of Virginia now in the sixty first year of my age, do certify on oath that, I was personally & well acquainted with Edward Diggs called Captain Diggs, named in the foregoing certificate of Mr. Robert Saunders, that he died in the Lunatic Hospital, or in the City of Williamsburg about the year 1816 as will appear by the Hustings Court of Williamsburg committing his estate to John Goodall as his Administrator at the February Court 1816. Said Goodall is since dead and no administration has since been granted on the estate of said Edward Diggs in said Court, he said Edward Diggs left a maiden Sister named Mary Diggs more generally called Molly Diggs who died since her brother the said Edward Diggs. And I further certify that I never have known any other Edward Diggs who was a Lunatic in this City or County, or in the Lunatic Hospital of this City except the first named Edward Diggs. And he being harmless was often permitted to go at large. When I knew him, he was a tall, dignified old Gentleman, remarkable neat in his person and general appearance. Given under my hand this 6th day of June 1851.

Wm M Moody

Personally appeared before me John M. Galt an Alderman & Justice of the Peace of the City of Williamsburg, Mrs Mary A. Galt & affirmed in due form of law that she had resided at the Lunatic Hospital in Williamsburg since the year 1809, and since the year 1814 had been matron thereof. She states further more, that she was acquainted during that time with Edward Digges a patient in the said Hospital, & that she never knew but one patient in the hospital by that name, & that he was there in the year 1814 and died between that period & 1820. And she furthermore states that John Goodall who administered on his estate, married a relative of the said Digges, & that Molly Digges his sister married him.

Eastern Lunatic Asylum/ June 6th 1851

Dear Sir I have just received your letter of the 3^d inst. There has been no record of the deaths of patients in the Asylum, previously to the year 1827, consequently there is no utility in any search into the books in this regard. The only items of this sort, of which record was kept previously to 1827, are the receptions & discharges. Several years since I took the trouble to look through all the books from the commencement of operations at the Hospital in 1773 until the date of my action. In this way I made a list of receptions and discharges. On referring to this list I find but one person named Edward Digges, who was admitted in 1806. The following is the entry in the record book – “At a Court of Directors of the Hospital for the maintenance and care of persons held at the said Hospital in Williamsburg the 11th day of June 1796. Present the Right Rev. Doctor Madison, The Rev. John Barker, Robert Andrews, Robert Greenhow, Champion Travis, Cyrus Griffin and Robert Saunders Gent.

The Court proceeded to consider the case of Edward Digges from this City who is said to be a person of unsound and disordered mind and it appearing that he is a person of unsound and disordered mind, It is ordered that he be received into the Hospital and that the allowance for his maintenance commence on the ninth day of April last.”

Should it be desirable I will have the records again searched. Please let me know,

I have the honour to be, / your obt. svt./ John M. Galt,

Superintendent & Physician of the Eastern Lunatic Asylum

NOTE: A note in the file indicates that Patsey Burwell was the mother of Col. Thomas Burwell.
