[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indecipherable' or 'undeciphered' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading skills fail to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention. Researchers should not rely solely on the transcripts but should review the originals for themselves. These transcripts are intended as an aid to research, not to be used in lieu thereof.]

Petition for Bounty land

Heirs of William Jennings Captain – State Line

The facts are – The Council Journal shows that William Jennings was commissioned August 7th 1777 – Lawrence Smith's pay book proves that he received pay as Lieutenant & Captain down to December 15 1779 – Commodore James Barron's affidavit proves that William Jennings entered the service "at the very earliest period of the Revolution, & continued therein until the close of the war."

This claim has been reported good, for a service of three years in Printers list No. 2. The testimony of Commodore Barron, added to the evidence of records causes me now to report it good for the war.

The Governor will find it necessary to ascertain by his decision the time of commencement of service. Commodore Barron says it was the very earliest period of the war & the Council Journals show that William Jennings received his commission as an officer in the State Artillery Regiment on the 7th of August 1777. He might have been in the service before the date of his commission.

Respectfully submitted

S/ John H Smith, Commissioner &c

To his Excellency
Governor Floyd

To the Honorable Thomas [undeciphered surname], Secretary of the Interior

Your memorialist – William H Jennings, respectfully Sheweth, that he is the acting administrator di bonie non [de bonis non] of Gideon Johnston<sup>5</sup> deceased, a citizen of the State of Virginia, and formerly a Captain of the State artillery. His letters of administration will appear from the certificate of the County court of Fauquier Virginia, which is filed herewith.

The former administrator of the said Johnston heretofore recorded Judgment against the State of Virginia for the Services of his said intestate as a Captain in the State artillery, which said Judgment was satisfied under the act of Congress which made provision for the liquidation of certain Judgments against the State of Virginia. In the suit upon which the said Judgment was rendered claim was asserted only for the services of said intestate as Captain in the State line, the parties interested in the claim, and their attorneys who prosecuted it, were, alike, ignorant of the fact, that the said intestate, in addition to his commission of Captain, held the appointment and discharged the duties of Quarter Master of Artillery; This fact appears from the certificate of the Honorable John Scott, now one of the Judges of the General Court of Virginia, which is also filed herewith –

Your memorialist is advised that the failure of the late representative of the said intestate to prefer the claim for the services of his intestate as Quarter-Master as aforesaid, cannot defeat the right of your memorialist, to demand the same at this time.

The declaration of the said intestate now remaining in the office of the Commissioner of Pensions shows that he received the appointment of Brigade Quarter Master in the Regiment of artillery commanded by Colonel Thomas Marshel, and the certificate of James E Heath, Auditor of the State of Virginia, filed herewith, shows that under the act of the General Assembly of Virginia passed at the November Session 1781 he received from the said state a certificate for his services as Captain and Quarter Master of artillery prior to the 1st of January 1782.

Your memorialist therefore prays that he may be allowed from the treasury of the United States compensation for the services of his said intestate as quartermaster as aforesaid – and as in duty &c &c he will ever pray

William H Jennings, administrator

[p 23: Affidavit dated April 28, 1837 given by John Westwood in which he states that Captain William Jennings was related to the defiance father (not named); he states that he was too young to have much of a recollection of the war but that he knew Captain Jennings quite well and knew of his reputation as having served as a Captain of the artillery during the Revolutionary war.]

acquainted with and nearly related to Captain William Jennings of the County of Elizabeth City, Virginia. Captain Jennings had a commission in Marshall's regiment, and I have reason to believe continued to be attached to the military service of the country until the close of the War of the Revolution. I was myself a surgeon in the aforesaid Regiment.

After the war we resided in the same town (Hampton) where he died and was buried in the Church yard of that place. I am informed that there is a tombstone erected upon his grave, which I presume must show the exact time of his death.
