[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indecipherable' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading skills fail to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention.]

[p 12: in a letter dated November 26, 1829 addressed to Captain George Turner,¹ Cincinnati, Ohio, the writer describes Robert Kirkland as having been in the Battle at Eutaw Springs, Bunkers Hill & some skirmishes with General Marion [Francis Marion]. The writer also describes Mr Kirkland as "a tall man, raw bone and weighed about 175 to 185 pounds strong & active in his youthful days." The writer [Elias H. Murray, on behalf of Robert Kirkland] was seeking Captain Turner's corroboration of Kirkland services.]

[p 14: Turner's response reads as follows:

Cincinnati February 9th, 1830

Sir

According to request (though so indisposed that I can hardly hold a pen) I transmit the enclosed. I well remember the name of Captain Kirk, and if¹ mistake not -- his character was coupled with that of a brave and active officer -- But as to the period his friend alludes, I have little no recollection; being at that time a prisoner on parole.

With great respect, I have the honor to be

Sir,

Your very Obedient Servant

S/ G. Turner"

[I could not find a document in this file which would lend itself to being interpreted as the enclosure referred to by Captain Turner unless it is contained in the document appearing on pages 15 and 16 of the Fold3.com file, said document being largely illegible. However, that document appears to be a letter originating from Marburyville on July 21, 1829 and therefore is unlikely to be the referenced enclosure.]

MurburyVille July 21st 1829

Sir

Your favor bearing date 1st May came to hand some time since and the contents have been duly considered. As it regards positive testimony I believe it to be impossible for me to produce any of having served in the Army of the Revolution after a lapse of 29 years since I left that part of the country where I could produce such testimony as having never had the advantages of Education I could not write to my friends nor do I suppose any of them to be now living whose testimony would make good my claim. I was at the Battle of the Eutaw Springs [September 8, 1781]² in which I was wounded probably there may be found among some records my name among the wounded at that place -- also in the Battle at Saunders Creek above Camden under General Gates at his defeat [Battle of Camden, August 15-16, 1780],³ Besides many little skirmishes some of which were under General Marion. My Colonel I cannot recollect the name of. [The next 4 lines of text are so faint as to be illegible: I can discern a reference to Captain J Stead. Likewise, the image of the 2nd page of this letter is so faint that only a few words can be discerned among which appears to be a reference to the fact that Robert Kirkland is "perfectly illiterate." The letter is signed by Elias H Murray who appears to be writing for and on behalf of Robert Kirkland.]
