[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading fails to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call errors or omissions to my attention.]

Before me the subscriber one of the judges of the General Court and presiding Judge of the Circuit Court in and for the eleventh Judicial District this day personally appeared Joseph Wilkinson aged sixty-one years and being first duly sworn, did depose and say that he was enlisted as a soldier in the Continental [document compromised and text missing] two years at [document compromised and text missing] field County [probably Chesterfield County] Virginia, by said William [document compromised and text missing] and was attached to the company of Ralph Faulkner in the month of January in the year 1776 and was attached to the 5th Virginia Regiment commanded by the then Colonel Charles Scott afterwards Brigadier General in the United States Army. That he served till about the month of December 1777 when at the White Marsh above Germantown he reenlisted for three years and continued to serve until he was taken prisoner at the surrender of Charleston South Carolina, and remained a prisoner about fourteen months and eleven days when he was discharged at Williamsburg Virginia after being brought into Virginia by a Cartel. That he cannot remember the name of the officer which was signed to his discharge. That he has lost his discharges & cannot produce them. That with a small piece of land which he possesses of inferior quality he made out to live tolerably well till about three years ago when by the accident of a fall from a horse he was wholly disabled from labor. That he has a wife equally old and infirm as himself & for Jordan with him, one of which is a cripple. That he is now evidently in such indigent circumstances as to require the aid of his Country lately provided by law, never having received a pension from any one of the different States or United States – & that he is now [paper compromised and text missing].

I Benjamin Mills Judge as aforesaid do certify that the foregoing examination was taken and sworn to before me this day and that it was apparent to my satisfaction that the applicant Joseph Wilkinson was an enlisted soldier in the Continental Army during the revolutionary war, and that he served as such as in said examination is stated and further that the said Applicant is in such indigent circumstances to require the aid of his Country. Given under my hand this 7th day of June, 1818.

Three Hundred Fifty Dollars in value of real and/or personal property was the threshold for qualifying as being "indigent" as required to qualify for a pension under the 1818 act.]
