[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indecipherable' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading skills fail to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention.]

State of South Carolina Spartanburg District: to wit

On this 8th day of March 1833 personally appeared in open Court before the Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and Sessions for the District of Spartanburg in the said State, now sitting, Samuel Fowler, a resident of South Carolina Spartanburg District, aged Eighty Six years who being first duly sworn according to law, doth on his oath make the following Declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the Act of Congress passed June 7, 1832. That he entered the service of the United States under the following named officers and served as herein stated. "I entered the service under Capt. John Gowen, on the frontier of South Carolina, but cannot recollect the date: and served in Col. White's Regiment. I was stationed at Jamison's Fort during the greater part of the time of my Services, occasionally ordered out against the Tories, and Indians, and sometimes employed as an Indian Spy. I entered the Army as a volunteer, and continued in the service as a Spy and guard to the frontier on the Indian line between 5 and 6 years and until the final close of the War. I have no documentary evidence of my services -- having lost all my papers at the burning of Jamison's Fort. I was born in Frederick County in Virginia -- but cannot recollect the year, having no record of my age -- I resided in Spartanburg when I first entered the Service, and resided on the same place now, and have resided there ever since the close of the War. General Pickens [Andrew Pickens] was the only General officer of the Army with whom I served. I never received any discharge (written) but was disbanded at the close of the hostilities with the other troops.

I hereby relinquish every claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present, and declare that my name is not on the pension Roll of the agency of any State -- for my character as a man of truth and moral conduct I refer to the Rev. ~~Hugh Henderson~~ and to John P. Landrum, and to William B. Archer and George Hughey to attest my character for truth.

On this 2nd October 1833, personally appeared, before the Subscriber a magistrate of said District, Samuel Fowler, who being duly sworn on his oath saith, that from old age and the consequent loss of memory, he cannot swear positively to the precise length of the different times of his Services and can only say that he entered the Army in the fall of 1776, and served at broken periods to the end of the War, but cannot recollect the dates, or length of time -- he considered himself, as always in the Army, on the frontier, and his active service was as a Spy, and Sentinel on the frontier, and composed of so many small tours, of a few weeks at a time -- that it is now impossible to identify them.

Smith to the Nation against them on a [indecipherable word or words, perhaps "at least"] 3 weeks in the year 78 I came back and joined Capt. Gowen's company and the first service rendered was in building of forts then I was called under Capt. Gowen to [2 indecipherable words] on tougulo [sic Tugaloo River ?] to fight the Indians about 2 or 3 weeks then returned back to the guarding the forts [indecipherable word] was then called all against the Tories under Col. branon [sic, Thomas Brandon?]⁴ for the space of two or three weeks then returned back guarding the forts I was then called on again under Col. South Carolina Spartanburg District

Personally came, on this ___ day of April 1838 in open court to wit the Court of Sessions and Common Pleas held for the District aforesaid, Samuel Fowler, resident in said District aforesaid, aged 91 years, who being first duly Sworn according to law, doth on his oath make the following Declaration, in order to obtain the benefit of the act of Congress passed June 7, 1832. -- that he entered the service under the following named officers and served as herein stated.

"I entered the Army, and the fall of 1778 under Capt. Gowen, and was employed in building Jamison's Fort, as the first part of my service. I was afterwards employed in various scouts, against the British, Tories and Indians, principally in the upper part of South Carolina, and the Cherokee Nation, for the term of 3 years -- during which time I was generally employed in active service -- and afterwards performed several small tours of duty, for a few days or weeks, at a time, in such broken amounts that I cannot now, affix any given term -- But I continued, sometimes in, and sometimes out of service until the end of the War, during which term I was taken as a Prisoner by the Indians & Tories, at the fall of Gowen's Fort -- And was afterwards retaken by Capt. Parsons & his Company that his services were generally rendered under Col. White and General Pickens.

⁴ It is not at all clear whether the applicant was under Col. Brandon or the Tories were under a Col. Brown. I'm guessing the intention was to say that the applicant was called out under Col. Thomas Brandon, but that is purely a guess.

That he hereby relinquishes every claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present, and declares that his name is not on the Pension roll of the Agency of any State --
