[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indecipherable' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading skills fail to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention.]

Pennsylvania, Washington County

On this 25th day of Sept. 1821 personally appeared in Open court a court of record for the said County, John Fox aged sixty years, resident in Followfield Township [Fallowfield Township] in said county, who being duly sworn according to law doth on his oath declare that he served in the Revolutionary War as follows, he enlisted in the year 1777 on Muddy Creek, Pennsylvania in the company commanded by Capt. Benjamin Biggs<sup>1</sup> of the 13th Virginia Regiment in the service of the United States, that being enlisted for three years or during the war, he served under Capt. Biggs about two years when he was taken prisoner by the Shawnee Indians at Fort Lawrens [sic, Laurens] on the Tuscarawas River, then commanded by Genl. Broadhead [Daniel Brodhead] and that he remained a prisoner with the Indians about seven years and was liberated at the treaty held by Generals Butler and Clarke at the mouth of the Miami River:<sup>2</sup> That at the time he was taken by the Indians he was wounded in the left hand, and on his arrival at the Indian Towns was made to Run the Gauntlet and so beaten over the head that he has ever since been unable to do any hard work. That he has a wife and five children, two of whom are married and the other two quite young, the eldest about 13 years of age, -- And I do solemnly swear that I was a resident Citizen of the United States on the 18th day of March 1818 and that I have not since that time by gift, sale or otherwise disposed of my property or any part thereof with intent thereby so to diminish it as to bring myself within the provision of an act of Congress entitled "an act to provide for certain persons engaged in the land and naval service of the United States in the revolutionary war" passed on the 18th day of March 1818, and that I have not nor has any person in trust for me any property, or securities, contracts or debts due to me nor have I any income other than what is contained in the schedule hereto annexed and by me subscribed, viz, One kettle, one dutch oven, one wheel, one axe, one bed and bedding, one table; the whole valued and appraised at fourteen dollars.--

Sworn to and declared on the 25th day of September 1821, before me.

S/ John Fox, X his mark

Ohio County, Virginia

Personally appeared before me the Subscriber, a Justice of the Peace in and for said county, Benjamin Biggs, late captain in the 13th Virginia Regiment, who being first sworn deposeth and saith that John Fox, in the spring of 1777 enlisted in his company to serve as a regular soldier for three years or during the war, that he served as such about two years during which time he was attached to the 13th Virginia Regiment then in the Continental service commanded by Col. John Gibson that in February

<sup>2</sup> C. Leon Harris notes: "the treaty held by Generals Butler and Clarke at the mouth of the Miami River" appears to refer to the Treaty of Fort McIntosh (at the mouth of Beaver River in PA) negotiated by Richard Butler and George Rogers Clark and signed on 21 Jan 1785. It was renegotiated by Butler and Samuel Holden Parsons at Cincinnati (mouth of Little Miami River) on 1 Feb 1786 – Treaty of Fort Finney.

1779 he was taken prisoner at Fort Laurens by the Indians & was held by them until the war was over, that he has frequently heard the said John say that the beating the Indians gave the said John on his head always injured him.

Ohio County, Virginia

Personally appeared before me the Subscriber, a Justice of the Peace in and for said county John Mills, late Ensign in the company commanded by the aforementioned Capt. Biggs, then attached to the 13th Virginia Regiment in the continental service commanded by Col. John Gibson, who said that John Fox did serve with him in the said company commanded by Capt. Biggs, for about two years when he was taken prisoner by the Indians at Fort Lawrence [sic, Fort Laurens] in Feb. 1779 and was held by them until the close of the war, that he is fully of the opinion that he is unable to support himself and is much afflicted with a pain in his head.
