[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indecipherable' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading skills fail to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention.]

State of North Carolina, Caswell County: Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, October Term 1832

On this 9th day of October in the year of our Lord 1832 personally appeared in open Court before the Justices of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions for the County of Caswell and State of North Carolina, now sitting, David Barker, a resident of the County of Caswell and State of North Carolina, aged Seventy-two years on the 23rd day of March last, who being first duly sworn and according to law, doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the act of Congress passed June 7th 1832 – That he entered the service of the United States under the following named officers and served as herein stated to wit:

That he turned out for three months as a volunteer some time in the month of August 1779 (the precise day of the month he does not remember) under the command of Captain William Hardin [also spelled William Harden] in the militia Service in the County of Caswell and State of North Carolina, which was then, and has since continued to be my place of residence; we marched shortly after to Hillsboro in this State where we remained about 10 days, and were then permitted to return home until further orders. About the 1st December 1779, we were again ordered by Captain Hardin into Service, and were marched to Hillsboro to join a Regiment of militia intended to march to the relief of South Carolina. On the 5th day of December 1779, I marched from Hillsboro in Captain Hardin's Company, the Regiment of militia to which we were attached, being commanded by Col. Archibald Lytle a Continental officer, we marched through Salisbury and Charlotte in this State and on our way to South Carolina, we joined the Brigade of militia commanded by General Rutherford [Griffith Rutherford], near the borders of that State. General Rutherford in a few days after we joined his Brigade, quit his command and returned home, one of the regiments attached to his Brigade was at that time commanded by Colonel Hampton, as I was informed; I do not now recollect what officer commanded the other Regiment attached to General Rutherford's Brigade. We marched into South Carolina through Camden, and arrived in Charleston some time in the month of January 1780 where we were placed under the command of General Lincoln [Benjamin Lincoln], while remaining there our Army was frequently fired on by the British troops, from a fort which they had erected, we always returned their fire, and sometimes our Army commenced it, which was kept up for several weeks with intervals sometimes of a day or two. On the 24th of March 1780 I received a discharge at Charleston after having been in service for the two periods above mentioned, about four months and three or four days, my discharge was signed by Colonel Lytle and Captain Hardin, which has since been lost or mislaid. After having been discharged I arrived at home on the 9th day of April 1780. About the 1st of September 1780, I entered a militia company for the term of three months in the County of Caswell and State of North Carolina I entered as a Substitute in place of Alexander Wiley Captain James Wilson having command of the company to which I was attached, and the Regiment to which we belonged, being commanded by Colonel William Moore, after having joined the Regiment of Colonel Moore at Caswell Court House, we marched to Hillsboro, where we joined several other regiments of militia, and were all placed under the command of General Butler [John Butler], from thence we marched through Salisbury to New Providence in this State, where we joined a Brigade of militia commanded by General Davidson [William Lee Davidson], also Colonel Washington [William Washington] and his troop of horse, and General Morgan [Daniel Morgan] and his Riflemen, from thence we marched to Rugeley's Mills [December 4, 1780] where a large number of Tories had embodied, we attacked them and took about 500 prisoners and marched back to Salisbury with them, where I was discharged about the 1st of December 1780 after having served a tour of three months. The discharge which I then received has been either lost or mislaid. About the 15th of January 1781, I turned out as a volunteer for two months in Captain Oldham's [John Oldham's] Company, in the County of Caswell and State of North Carolina in the Regiment to which we were attached was commanded by Colonel William Moore, we marched into the County of Orange in this State, and attacked a body of Tories at a place called Powell's race paths, defeated them and took some prisoners [Pyles' Defeat, February 25, 1781],. Afterwards we joined General Greene's [Nathanael Greene's] Army in Guilford County in this State on the Alamance, and continued with them until the battle of Guilford was fought on the 15th March 1781. Two or three days after the battle I was discharged in Caswell County N. C. after having served two months and one or two days.

In September 1781, about the first of the month as well as I can recollect, I volunteered in Caswell County in this State for the term of three months under Captain Oldham, Colonel Moore being the commanding officer of the Regiment to which we were attached we marched in pursuit of the Tories, who had taken the Governor of North Carolina at Hillsborough and pursuing them we got in a few miles of Wilmington in this State, we were met near that place British troops and Tories, and after skirmishing with them for a short time, we were ordered by General Butler our commanding officer to retreat. Afterwards the enemy attacked us about midnight, at a place called the Brown Marsh [September 1781] and broke in upon our lines, and took some prisoners and bayoneted some of our men. I continued in service until the expiration of the three months for which I had volunteered, and was discharged some time about the first of December 1781 – at a place called Clayton's on the North fork of Cape Fear River, having been in the militia service of my country and the different tours above mentioned for a period of 12 months and about four days.
