[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indecipherable' or 'undeciphered' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading skills fail to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention. Researchers should not rely solely on the transcripts but should review the originals for themselves. These transcripts are intended as an aid to research, not to be used in lieu thereof.]

Before me personally appeared Mrs. Mary Martin widow of Edward Martin deceased, who was a Captain in the War of the revolution, and being duly sworn says that she was sixty-nine years of age the 11th of November 1839, That she was married to said Edward Martin on the first day of March, the year she does not recollect, but she well recollects that deponent was in her twenty second or in her twenty third year when she was married, and believes that she was in her twenty second year. That the date of said marriage was entered in a blank leaf of the family Bible by her deceased husband and in his handwriting. That said leaf has been lost or torn out of said Bible for a number of years past, and deponent inclines to the belief that it was torn out loose as above before her said husband's death in December 1813. That deponent does not recollect the year of marriage entered as above, nor does she know what has become of said lost leaf. But is satisfied that she was married in the year 1792 from her own age and the ages of her oldest children Elizabeth Sloan and John A. Martin. The deponent was married in March and her first child Elizabeth Sloan was born the 19th day of January following and was forty-seven years old January the 19th last past as deponent believes. There is fifteen months and some ten or eleven days between John A. Martin and his sister Elizabeth Sloan and said John A. will be forty-six years of age if he lives to the 13th day of April next. That, since the death of Mrs. Elizabeth McVea the deponent knows of no person now living who was present at the marriage excepting a sister of the deponent Mrs. Margaret Martin who had intermarried with David Martin a brother of said Edward Martin.

Before me personally appeared Mrs. Margaret Martin widow and relict of David Martin and being duly sworn makes oath that she is the sister of Mrs. Mary Martin who has taken and subscribed the above affidavit. That deponent's late husband David Martin was a brother of the above named Captain Edward Martin. That said Captain Edward Martin and deponent's sister Mary Martin were married in the presence of the deponent and in the house of deponent by Captain Hugh Milling then an acting Magistrate. That deponent well recollects of being present at said marriage but does not know the year of the marriage only from the deponent's own age, she [indecipherable word] when she deponent was married and from the ages of her oldest children. The deponent is ten [could be 'two']<sup>9</sup> years younger than her Sister Mary Martin, and was married two years and from Christmas to March in addition, before her sister Mary and deponent was in the 18th year when she was married. That deponent is satisfied and believes her sister Mary Martin was married in the year 1792 and is very sure before the year 1794. That deponent was well acquainted with said Edward Martin as well as her said sister before their intermarriage and is still well acquainted with her sister Mary Martin, and believes she cannot be mistaken in the date of their marriage.
