Fayette County Pennsylvania: SS

On the 3rd day of June 1833 personally appeared in open Court before the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of said County Charles the Warrick a resident of the County of Fayette aforesaid aged seventy-three years on the 27th instant who being duly sworn according to law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the act of Congress passed 7th of June 1832.

He entered the service of the United States under the following named officers and served as herein stated.

That he first entered the Service in April he thinks of 1777 under Captain Sclaski of the light dragoons and placed under the command of General Pulaski at Baltimore in Maryland they marched from thence to Philadelphia they wintered at Germantown – in the spring they went to little Egg Harbour where they were attacked by General Howe who they repulsed & compelled him to re-embark – from thence he marched to Trenton thence to Minisink up the Delaware against the Indians & Tories they spent the winter at Hummels town [Hummelstown] on Swatarra [Swatara Creek] This was the winter of 1778 – 9 in the spring they received orders to March to the South and had an engagement with the British under General Howe near the ten mile house about that distance from Charlestown & again compelled General Howe to take to his shipping where they went into Charlestown it was estimated that they had 2 prisoners for every man – thence they went to Savannah in Georgia where they made an assault on that place but were repulsed with great loss out of 500 men only 25 or 30 survived – General Pulaski was mortally wounded & died in Charleston – this applicant was wounded in the leg by a ball which is still sore occasionally. Here his 3 years for which he had enlisted in Baltimore expired and they were entitled to their discharges but at the request of Major Varnce they agreed to join Colonel Washington's Regiment of dragoons. He was shortly after surprised & captured by the

¹ SMILIE, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Ireland in 1741; immigrated to the United States and settled in Pennsylvania in 1760; attended the public schools; served in the Revolutionary War; moved to Fayette, Pa., in 1780; was a member of the state house of representatives 1784-1786; member of the state constitutional convention in 1790; served in the state senate from 1790 to 1793, when he resigned; elected as an Anti-Administration candidate to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); elected as a Republican to the Sixth and to the six succeeding Congresses and served from March 4, 1799, until his death; had been reelected to the Thirteenth Congress, but died in Washington, D.C., December 30, 1812, before the close of the Twelfth Congress; interment in the Congressional Cemetery. <http://bioguide.congress.gov/scripts/biodisplay.pl?index=S000508>

British at Moncks Corner with a number of others after a severe struggle he was then put on board of a prison ship at Charleston and kept there thirteen months on board the Prison ship & then sent to Ireland where he made his Escape about eighteen months after he was taken prisoner which made with his three years service a little more than four years and a half – he never received his pay except for a few months. He got a discharge after his return which he delivered to John Smilie when he was in Congress from this district to get his land & pay Some twenty years ago which he understood was filed in the public office & was destroyed as he understood by the burning of the offices during the late war – he knows of no living witness to prove his services – he got the deposition of Ephraim Sutton which he is informed by Samuel Sutton was sent with his papers to the Department some time ago E. Sutton is since dead he has therefore no witness living to prove his services, he is not acquainted with any clergyman who he can procure to certify for him living in a remote & mountainous part of the Country but the Honorable William Davidson & the Honorable A. Stewart will certify who are highly respectable citizens Mr. Davis of the late member of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania & A. Stewart our present member of Congress –

In answer to the questions required to be put by the War Department he answers as follows

1. He was born in the state of Maryland in Baltimore County 27 June 1761.
2. His name is recorded in his father's Book called "The whole duty of man."
3. He lived in Baltimore & was mentee [?] to a tanner by the name of Keys when he enlisted after he returned from Ireland when he was a Prisoner he returned to Baltimore & removed to the West about forty years ago & settled in Fayette County where he now resides.
4. He went out by [indecipherable word or words] & afterwards was out as a volunteer against the Indians which he has not enumerated partly because deeming it unnecessary as the time given was sufficient.
5. The names of his officers were as enumerated in his foregoing declaration. He served under Captain Sclasski Captain De Rontier [?] Captain Bentley, Colonel Bose killed at Egg Harbour, Colonel Kowatch [?] Killed at the 10 mile house in South Carolina, General Pulaski, Colonel Washington, Major Varnce & others.
6. He received a discharge which he delivered to the Honorable John Smilie member of Congress which is lost.
7. The Honorable Wm Davidson & Honorable A. Stewart will certify for him not being able to procure the attendance of a clergyman on account of the remote & sparsely settled part of the country in which he resides –
