[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indecipherable' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading skills fail to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention.]

State of Tennessee, Smith County }

On this 20th day of May in the year 1837 personally appeared before the Subscriber one of the acting Justices of the peace in and for said County Jane Brandon a resident of Smith County and State of Tennessee aged Seventy-Seven years who being first duly Sworn according to law doth on her oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the Provision made by the Act of Congress passed July 4th 1836. That she is the widow of William Brandon who was a private and Ensign in the Army of the Revolution and served three several tours of Service his first tour was in the State of Pennsylvania he lived in York County in said State his Captain's name was Thomson he was in the Army of General Gates [Horatio Gates] was at the battle of Saratoga<sup>1</sup> he was a volunteer in a tour of service and served nine months he got a discharge but when he moved to this country he burnt it with a great many other old papers. He volunteered again for nine months and Joined the Army of General Washington, he was at the battle of Brandywine [September 11, 1777] and at Chadsford also the battle of Germantown [October 4, 1777] she cannot State the particulars of this campaign as it was before her marriage She was married under the old fashion by proclamation of Banns at Monaehan[?] Meeting House it was during this tour that he acted as Ensign. He served this tour nine months and was regularly discharged but burnt it with other papers. He entered the Service again as a volunteer and the reason was he preferred that [illegible word] rather than suffer to be drafted he was a rifleman and mounted in the horse troops as a private under Major Kirkpatrick and under General Morgan [Daniel Morgan] he entered the Service this time after Charleston was taken [Charleston South Carolina fell to the British on May 12, 1780] and continued in the Service until after the battle of King's Mountain [October 7, 1780] he was at the battle of Guilford [March 15, 1781]. The name of Brandon was well known among the Tories his Colonel['s] name was Brandon [Thomas Brandon] and he continued longer in the Services than usual as it was unsafe to pass out of the Army he had many skirmishes with the Tories but this affiant cannot recollect at this distance of time he was discharged this time for a tour of 12 months but burnt his discharge with other papers as above Stated.

He got paid in the old Continental money this affiant has a great deal of it on hand and sends a Specimen of it to the War Department and says that her husband always thought Congress would make some arrangement to pay it she has a great many bills of it of which her husband was paid for his Services. She further declares that from the distance she lives from the Courthouse and old age and bodily infirmity she cannot travel to the Court to make this declaration. She further declares that she was married to the said William Brandon on the ___ day of May 1781 and that her husband the aforesaid William Brandon died on the 10th March 1818 and that she has remained a widow ever since that period as will more fully appear by reference to the proof hereto annexed.

On this day personally appeared William D. Brandon Son of William & Jane Brandon and made oath in due form of law that he is according to the record of his father kept in a book forty-eight years of age. That his oldest Brother yet lives in South Carolina and he being the oldest son living in this Country Deposeth and says that when his father was about starting from South Carolina to moved to this Country in 1817 he made this affiant collect all his old papers Stating that he could not live long owing to a hurt he got in the last tour of Service and made this affiant first read them over and then burnt them believing that they were useless this affiant recollects very well of burning three discharges and also a great many papers or furloughs he recollects very well of reading them over there was two for Services in Pennsylvania each time of Service was for either six or nine months. But he distinctly recollects the last discharge was for 12 months and the reason was he continued in Service as a volunteer from the time that Charleston fell into the hands of the British until after the Battle of Guilford he recollects that one of the discharges was for Ensign this was one of the tours in Pennsylvania he further States that from tradition of the County his father was born in Pennsylvania but his father was formerly from Ireland and when this affiant read over the certificate of protection the old man said he would keep it to show his children also he has preserved a great many bills of the old currency in which he was paid. This affiant recollects frequent conversations between his father and Col. Brandon in South Carolina heard them speak of all the services particularly the last tour in South Carolina Colonel Brandon lived a close neighbor was a relation to his father and one or more of the furloughs were given by Colonel Brandon.

On this day personally appeared John Brandon nephew of William Brandon the husband of the above applicant before me Patrick Ferguson one of the acting Justices of the peace in and for said County who being duly Sworn according to law makes oath that he is Seventy-two years of age and recollects the Services of his uncle in the War of the Revolution his first tour of Services was in Pennsylvania. He believes the captain's name was Thomson, he knows in the second tour of Service that he was an officer and held the office of Ensign he believes his Captain's name was name was Irwin he was at the battle of White Plains [October 28, 1776] and was out all the winter when the battles of Brandywine and Germantown were fought. This affiant distinctly recollects of hearing him relate during the tour of Service in the winter of his Company or detachment encamping at Pemberton's Wood and was detached from the Army of Washington on small parties sometimes in New Jersey and sometimes in Maryland; but thinks his two tours of Service were but six months each and is unwilling to state his time to be longer than two tours of six months. This affiant States that after the fall of Charleston and the British were approaching to Ninety Six that his uncle William entered the Service as a light horse troops and was used upon reconnoitering and light Services. This affiant lived in Camden District South Carolina and when his uncle could make it convenient he would Stay all night and Joined his company in the morning. Sometimes the whole Regiment would camp close by his mother's; their Colonels' names were Moffet, Neil and Brandon, this was during what was called the "Bloody Summer." He believes that he served more than 12 months but will not say how much longer. This affiant was frequently with him in camps. He further states that William Brandon and Jane Dodds were legally married in Pennsylvania at the time she states and before the last term of her husband's services expired and that she has remained a widow ever since the death of her husband.

State of Tennessee, Smith County

On this day personally appeared Arthur Brandon aged 75 years and going in his 76th a Citizen of Kentucky before me Thomas Dotson one of the acting Justices of the Peace in and for the County aforesaid and made oath in due form of law that he was well acquainted with William Brandon he was his uncle and this affiant States that during the Revolution Say about the year 1776 or 7 his father John Brandon was killed in a battle with the Indians while under the command of General Williamson in the place called the Middle Settlements and thus left himself and three brothers, a sister and his Mother in a helpless condition he being only about 12 or 13 years of age: in a year or two say in 1779 the said William Brandon was in service in Pennsylvania and having served two Militia tours had heard of the death of his Brother this affiant's father and helpless condition came to South Carolina then Camden District but what is now called York District for the protection of his Mother and the children. The Tories was also getting to be very troublesome and required the attention of Some one to procure them something to live on and he from the best information this affiant could gather at that time said William Brandon Served two tours of three months in Pennsylvania or the tours might have been longer they were full tours of Service one tour was served in New Jersey another and Pennsylvania both under General Washington and one of the tours in New Jersey he was in the battle of Monmouth [June 28, 1778] and on another action he witnessed the battle at a place called White Plains or some such name the Position of the British were on one hill and the Americans were on another during the action three British officers rode between the contending parties one of whom fell to ride no more, Brandon was on one of the flanks and was not in the battle but saw it about the same time said Brandon saw another company of riflemen say one hundred others marched up a small Branch on one side of which lay a small party of British in a buckwheat field in charge of a cannon, they immediately commenced with their rifles and killed so many the balance of the British fled leaving their cannon which the Americans took possession of and fired after them as they retreated. The last tour was chiefly about Valley Forge. It was in cold weather all this information affiant got from said William Brandon immediately after his return Say in 1779 also a great many other circumstances too tedious to mention all of which this affiant believes to be true. After said Brandon's return or about the time said Brandon came to South Carolina Times were very troublesome the Siege of Charleston commenced soon after and was taken the spring or summer following and from the fall of Charleston to the termination of the War said William Brandon was continually almost in Militia Service under Colonels Sumpter [sic, Thomas Sumter], Niell [Andrew Neel], Mofat [John Moffatt?], Hathron [James Hawthorn?], Watson [Samuel Watson] and others and under captains Jamison [James Jamieson], Hilhouse [William Hillhouse], Barnett [Jacob Barnett] and McCool [John McCool]. The reason he left this affiant's Mother and went into the Service was that no man was safe unless he was in the Army and this affiant recollects that when said Brandon could get an opportunity he would come home on furlough or parole for a few days to assist them. After the fall of Charleston said Brandon was out a three months tour during which time he was in the Hanging Rock [August 6, 1780] at another time he was at the battle of the fish dams [sic, Fish dam, November 9, 1780] under Colonel Sumter said Brandon was out another three months tour in North Carolina and was at the battle of the Cowpens [January 17, 1781] at another he was at the taking of King's Mountain. In South Carolina he was at the Hanging Rock and Buford's defeat [May 29, 1780].<sup>2</sup> This affiant makes these statements from recollections of those Periods. York or Camden Districts was the Seat of War in South Carolina, William Brandon was also in the battle of Camden [August 15-16, 1780] but this affiant cannot State at this particular time the dates of the different tours of Service as he was principally at home and his uncle William Brandon so soon as one tour of Service was over he would enter again chiefly in tours of three and sometimes two months at a time. This affiant will sum up the Service and will safely state the Service of the said William Brandon during the year 1779, 1780 and 1781 at least to be 12 months and thus states on information performed in Pennsylvania at six months and further this deponent Saith not except the marriage between him and Jane Brandon formerly Jane Dobbs which took place a few years after the Revolution say in 1785 or thereabout.

<sup>2</sup> He is very unlikely to have been in this engagement as the Whig troops in it were Virginia Continentals under the Command of Col. Abraham Buford.

On this day personally appeared Jane Brandon widow of William Brandon deceased who is a resident of the County of aforesaid before me James Patterson an acting Justice of the Peace in and for the County aforesaid who being duly Sworn according to law doth on her oath make the following amended Declaration in addition to her former Declarations in order to obtain the benefit of the Provision made by the Acts of Congress passed July 7th 1838 and 3rd of March 1843 and the act of 28 June 1844 continuing the Pensions of certain Widows. That since making the last Amended Declaration she has been informed & and now recollects and believes that her husband the said William Brandon Served Several tours of Service in the State of North Carolina and if the same has been omitted in her former Declaration she is now well convinced the same should have been mentioned. She accounts for such omission if the same does not exist from the fact that she was only married to him as appears of record in the year 1785 or about that time, and consequently could not have known all the Services only as her said husband told her and as the proof is made out, her old age and bodily infirmity should also plead for such omission. She is informed and believes the information to be true that evidence of her husband's Services have lately been procured by Adam Ferguson from the office of the Comptroller of North Carolina which she has no doubt is correct as there was but two William Brandon's in the War of the revolution and there was a large connection of them some lived in North and some in South Carolina one of these was an officer a Captain or Lieutenant and the other was her husband. She well recollects her husband telling her of being in the battle of King's Mountain and Guilford Court house as well as many other places not now recollected. She therefore claims all benefit from this Service for her husband in the War of the Revolution and as full and complete a manner as if the same had been Stated before by her and she relies on said proof. She claims all benefit from the Services of her husband in Pennsylvania, South Carolina as well as North Carolina and for such services performed by her said husband in the war of the Revolution she Claims a full pension.
