[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indcipherable' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading skills fail to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention.]

State of Kentucky, Scott County

On this 20th day of May 1833 came in person before the County Court of Scott County then in session Peter Brumback aged 79 years who doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the act of Congress passed May 15, 1828 – That on the __ day of __ in the year 1779 as he now thinks he enlisted as a regular soldier in the Army of the revolution under ~~Captain~~ Lieutenant John Linton for and during the war. That he served under Col. William Washington, Regiment of horse throughout the war; from the time of his enlistment till the end thereof which was about four years – he thinks Colonel Washington's Regiment was the 3rd Virginia Regiment on Continental establishment.

That whilst in the service aforesaid Col. William Washington's Regiment of horse was some of the time under General Morgan's command, at Guilford Courthouse, his Regiment was under the Command of General Greene. At the battle of Camden, he served still under the command of General Greene. At the battle of Reedy River the Regiment was under command of Colonel William Washington. At the battle of Eutaw Springs he was under command of General Greene, and also at Dorchester and likewise at 96. That he received 2 wounds in all the service aforesaid. That he has been on the Pension roll of the United States for the last 12 or 13 years. That he has never made application heretofore to be placed on the pension roll for his services except as an invalid aforesaid. That he served the time of his enlistment which was for and during the war in the capacity of a private. That he was discharged honorably in writing – and he thinks he had three discharges he has lost or mislaid. He says he is the identical man who has been on the invalid pension roll of the United States as above stated. He refers to the proof in said case to establish his present application as well as the depositions herein enclosed. He hereby relinquishes his claim to all over pensions for services as a soldier but not that to which he is now entitled as an invalid; and declares that his name is not on the pension roll of any state in the Union except as an invalid aforesaid.

Sworn to and Subscribed the date above.

Sworn to in Open Court.

Not only is the handwriting challenging in itself, but Judge Monroe has written on both sides of the paper and ink bleeding through the paper obscures the text of what he has written.]

United States of America, District of Kentucky

This day Peter Brumback personally appeared before the undersigned a District Judge of the United States for the District of Kentucky and being duly sworn states that he was a soldier of the revolutionary war – that he enlisted in the Regiment of Cavalry commanded by Colonel William Washington of the revolutionary Army in the year 1779 and served in that Regiment continually until discharged after the close of the war – that he was a member of the troop commanded by John Linton-- affiant believes Linton was the first Lieutenant and the Captain being absent he at first commanded as a Lieutenant whether he was afterwards commissioned a Captain he cannot state but he was called Captain Linton – Affiant further states that he was in the battle of Camden South Carolina that he was severely wounded in the left arm by the sword of a soldier of the enemy – that he was at the battle of the Eutaw Springs and was there severely wounded by a musket ball of the enemy in the right thigh the ball entered on the inside of the thigh and passing through the limb went out just below the hip bone. And he states he has been and is now so disabled by the effects of the last mentioned wound in the thigh that he is unable to labor for a subsistence and has been so for some years. Until within eight or 10 years the effects of the wound were not such as to disable him from labor. He states that in that time he applied for a pension from the state on the grounds of his services as a soldier of the revolutionary war and his inability [several indecipherable word or words] indigent circumstances to support himself without the aid of the government. And accordingly obtained a pension on those grounds but not on the ground of his having been wounded in the Service. He states that he never did [indecipherable word] that he was entitled to a pension on the account of his having been disabled by his wound received in battle until in the month of March last and his not being informed of the Act of Congress on [several indecipherable words] of his right under it is the calls of his not having made an earlier application. Affiant states that after the Army was disbanded and he was discharged he resided in the County of Fairfax State of Virginia until the year 1806 when he removed to the County of Garrard State of Kentucky where he resided for years after which he removed to Nelson County – thence he moved after a residence of one year to the County of Boone State of Kentucky where he now resides – his occupation has always been that of a farmer since he was discharged from the Army.

Subscribed and sworn to at Frankfort this 20th day of April 1834.

S/ Peter Brumback

John Casey<sup>5</sup> a witness produced by the above named Peter Brumback being also first sworn before the undersigned swears that he was also a Soldier of the Revolutionary War and was a private in the same Regiment of Cavalry commanded by Colonel William Washington-- that he was enlisted in 1779 at Hillsborough North Carolina and belonged to the Sixth Troop, at first commanded by Captain Will Barnett who having been wounded at the battle of Guilford afterwards by Captain William Parsons [could be Patson] -- he states he was well acquainted with the above named Peter Brumback in the Army and Washington's Regiment, he joined the Regiment in the same year Affiant did: was in the battles of Camden, Eutaw Springs, Cowpens, Guilford C. House and at the siege of Ninety Six and was a good Soldier and so reputed – Affiant well recollects that said Brumback was wounded at the battle of Camden by the cut of a Sword on the left arm-- Affiant saw the wound soon after the battle. He also well recollects that said Brumback was wounded by a musket ball in the thigh at the battle of the Eutaw Springs. Affiant saw the wound a short time after the battle was over and it was generally reputed and believed in the Regiment that Brumback had been wounded – Affiant has this day examined the scars on the [indecipherable word] of the thigh and hip of the said Brumback and from what he recollects of the wound and the appearance of the scars he is satisfied the scars are the [indecipherable word] of the wound incurred by Peter Brumback at the battle of the Eutaw Springs.

Affiant well recollects that said Brumback served in the Regiment until the close of the war and that they were both discharged about or at the same time on Santee River South Carolina in 1783. They did not afterwards meet until about two years ago in the town of Lexington. They then immediately recognized each other and having talked over their battles affiant is certain of the identity of the person and of his Services and wounds.
