[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading fails to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call errors or omissions to my attention.]

State of South Carolina Georgetown District

On this 31st day of January 1839, personally appeared before the undersigned Mrs. Juliana Carr, aged 75 years a resident of Georgetown South Carolina, who being duly sworn according to law doth on her oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the provision made by the act of Congress passed July 7th 1838 entitled an act granting half pay and pensions to certain widows: that, she is the widow of Stephen Carr, who was a soldier during the War of the Revolution, and served in some two years as deponent has reason to believe, in the following manner, to which, in the commencement of the Revolution he joined Captain John Postell's Company attached as she believes to Colonel Horry's command and Marion's brigade. Deponent cannot say now what rank, or whether he always remained a private, but saith, while so serving he was with these officers in those services which they rendered to the Country in the partisan warfare, which they carried him against the enemy in the district between Georgetown and Charleston, and the places contiguous. Deponent saith that he remained so under arms as aforesaid, until the end of the war. Deponent saith, that she has no documentary evidence, for her papers were destroyed many years ago, and most of those who served with her said husband are either dead, absent from the State, or by reason of decay of memory, incapable of giving direct testimony in support of said Services. She further declares she was married to the said Stephen Carr on the 30th of May 1788 and that her husband the aforesaid Stephen Carr died on the 8th of October 1797, that she was not married to him prior to his leaving the service, but the marriage took place previous to the first of January 1794, viz. at the time above stated, and is now his widow & has not been since married any other person.
