State of South Carolina, District of Beaufort

On this 21 day of April 1843 Personally appeared before me this is Susan Joyner, aged 71 years, a resident of South Carolina District of Beaufort, who being first duly sworn according to law, doth on her oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the provisions of the Act of Congress passed June 7, 1832, as the widow of William Joyner deceased who was a private in the war of the Revolution, and served as such under arms as Deponent has been informed and believes two years, in a uniform company of Militia in the City of Charleston called the True Blues, commanded at different times by Captains Mathews [John Raven Mathews], Greenwood [William Greenwood] and Lee [William Lee]. Deponent has reason to believe her husband the said William Joyner entered the Army in the beginning of the year 1777 and served to the surrender of Charleston in May 17801 serving all this time wherever his Company served. At the surrender of the City, Deponent, has been informed and believed said Joyner was taken prisoner like the rest of the militia under arms: and was then permitted to be engaged in said City in the Mercantile line -- Deponent has been informed and believes that a remonstrance was presented to the British authorities against permitting persons so situated obtaining employment of this description: said Joyner then left the City without permission, and repaired to Beaufort in said State, and joined the American Army in which he served to the end of the war.

Deponent further declares that her husband the said William Joyner died the 24 of December 1834, and that she was married to the said William Joyner on the __ day of September 1798, as will be further shown by the proof hereto annexed -- and Deponent says that she makes this declaration in order to obtain the arrears of pension so due and unpaid to said William Joyner at the time of his death as aforesaid. -- according to law, Deposeth, that, he knew and was well acquainted with, William Joyner deceased, during the war of the revolution. Deponent says that said Joyner served under arms as a private in one of the militia companies in this City. Deponent has reason to believe he served two years previous to the surrender in May 1780. Deponent says he has reason to believe he was made prisoner by the British at said surrender like the rest of the militia. Deponent says, he has seen and read an affidavit of Mr. John Cart in relation to this claim. Deponent says his recollection of the Circumstances therein set forth, so far as they have come within his knowledge coincides with that of Mr. Cart. Deponent says he knew Mr. Cart during the revolution & up to the present time, and his statements are fully relied on by Deponent.

Dear Sir [addressed to J L Edwards, Commissioner of Pensions in Washington DC]

Will you be so obliging as to give me some information in the case of the widow of William Joyner. There is great difficulty at this late period of obtaining the necessary evidence of service in the Militia during the Revolution, however certain one may be of the facts of the service. I was intimately acquainted with Mr. Joyner, indeed lived in his house during my youth, and remember many [?] antidotes, of which he had an immense fund, connected with his military Service in various quarters, at the siege of Charleston, the attack on Savannah and elsewhere. He was the nephew of Commodore Joyner [sic, Captain John Joyner] who commanded the frigate South Carolina,4 when she was captured. There is not a doubt of the fact of his being for a long time, and I take the liberty of mentioning the above circumstances by way of assuring you that whatever the evidence will permit you to decide favorably, you may be morally certain of the [indecipherable word] of your Judgment.

I am dear Sir
with great respect
Your Obedient Servant
