Charleston So. Carolina, on a voyage to Hispaniola. the vessel in which he sailed was captured by the British Frigate Daphne, and deponent was detained a prisoner on board said frigate about One year. when said frigate entered the Delaware river, deponent made his escape, and joined the Maryland Continental troops then at Brandywine, marched with them to Vally forge, and to Monmouth, at the battle at which place [28 Jun 1778] he served as a private and a volunteer. After the battle of Monmouth deponent by Colonel [Francis] Marion near Santee River [at Nelson Ferry near Eutaw Springs, 25 Aug 1780], and when he received his discharge, which was signed by Capt. Edw’d. Edgely [sic: Edward Edgerley] & Arthur Williams [sic: Col. Otho Holland Williams], Captain Gassaway being then a prisoner. his discharge is lost Deponent is now upwards of sixty years of age, has a family, and is in reduced circumstances, and needs the assistance of his Country for support. after deponents discharge from the army he returned to North Carolina, where he had previously & has also subsequently resided. He has no means of proving at this place his services by any one who served with him, but respectfully entreats the Honorable Secretary of War will cause examination to be made of the Rolls of the Maryland army on which he is confident his name and services will appear. Deponent prays the benefit of the act of Congress provided for this case.
