He removed from Cumberland to Pittsylvania County in December 1779. in February 1781 he volunteered with about 200 others to meet and resist the passage of the British at Island ford on Dan River where he was stationed at the Va & no Caro line about Two weeks. the British army then at Red House NoCa [in present Caswell County NC] about five miles distant. when at the end of two weeks the enemy removed & went Southward he with the other Volunteers under Capt Wallers [possibly Waller] returned to their homes all having served at their own expense. In a few weeks after this he was summoned by Doc'r. Bryant forage master to Colo. [Henry] Lee's Reg't. to Guard five waggons loaded with provisions for Col. Watson & Ensign Graves - joined by Capt James Burnett's Company. they marched toward the main Army then in Hanover County Va and one days marched were joined by Capt James Cowders [sic: James Cowden's] and another Company from Henry County Va. on there marched there rout was frequently changed by the crossing & recrossing of the British army so that they were very slow in there progress. they marched through Cumberland County where they united with the Cumberland Troops under the Command of Brig. Gen'l. R. [Robert] Lawson - Colo. St Geo. [St. George] Tucker - Maj'r [Phillip Howerton - Maj'r. Pevine?] they reached the main army under the command of Gen'l. Lafayette at Colo. [William] Dandridge in Hanover County Va. Sometime in June at which time the armies were in sight of each other. the Brittish Army withdrew a short distance. Gen'l Lafayette was anxious for an engagement but could not get one on such terms as suited him. firing was heard every day between scouting parties. they remained at Colo. Dandridges a short time & marched to Chickahominy Swamp where they remained three or four days. he said Flippen cannot now recollect the various short marches & meanderings of the Army for the next six or seven weeks. but having no battle & no reasonable prospect of one the army encamp't at Morbin Hill [sic: Malvern Hill] 17 miles [SE] from Richmond Va. where he the said Flippen remained in the faithful discharge of the duty required of him untill the expiration of his term of Service - 3 months about the last of August '81 when he was honorably discharged by their Capt James Burnet, under whom he was placed.
