Transcribed and annotated by C. Leon Harris.

State of Ohio }  Ss
Richland County }

On this 24th day of October eighteen hundred and thirty two in open Court in the Court of Common pleas of Richland County personally appeared before the Judges thereof now sitting Samuel Freeman a resident of Clear Creek Township in Richland County Ohio aged 70 years who being first duly sworn according to Law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the act of congress passed June 7, 1832

That he entered the service of the United States in April in the year 1779 [sic: 1781] at Rogers Fort in Monongahela county in Virginia [sic: usually called for Dinwiddie, at present Stewartstown, Monongalia County, now in WV] under Capt. Robert Ferrell (John Gruer was Lieutenant) was marched to what was called Old Fort [possibly Redstone Old Fort at present Brownsville PA] where they staid two or three weeks recruiting from thence was marched by Fort Pitt to the mouth of Cat Fish creek staid there some two or three weeks does not remember the precise time. From thence we were marched by Big Beaver (where there were some troops stationed) to Wheeling – Staid at Wheeling some weeks recruiting. From thence went down the Ohio River in boats under command of Gen. [George Rogers] Clark landed on an Island below the mouth of the Big Canauga [probably Kanawha River at Point Pleasant] and staid there all night and part of the next day waiting for Laughery [sic: Col. Archibald Lochry] who was following the army; as he did not arrive Gen Clark left a Sergeant by the name of John Stackhouse [possibly pension application S38409] with a boat and Sergeant’s guard with letters to Laughery containing directions for following the army; the Sergt. after staying there as long as directed and Laughery not coming on followed the army to the mouth of the mouth of the Big Miami [Great Miami River] and he and his eight men were taken prisoners by the Indians. We then proceeded down the River to the falls of the Ohio [at present Louisville KY]. Laughery in following the army down the River was killed and all his men were either killed or taken by the Indians at the mouth of Big Miami [24 Aug 1781]. After Laucherys defeat the older Indians took the prisoners and booty and went home and and the younger ones crossed the River and attacked Col. Boon [sic: Daniel Boone] upon the left hand fork of Salt River – After the Indians had attacked the fort for two days in succession about half the people in the fort left it, to go further down the river where the country was more thickly populated, accompanied by 40 of the light horse they were way-laid on the road and almost all the settlers men women and children and thirty or the forty light horse who accompanied them as a guard were killed by the Indians. Gen.
Clark hearing of this massacre ordered five hundred men to proceed up Salt river to attack the Indians & also to take care of the dead. He was one of the party. We were marched up the river and in a day and a half came to the place where the massacre had been committed – they buried the dead; and followed the Indians a Northerly course until it was discovered that the Indians had recrossed the Ohio: and then returned to the fort at the falls our party being so small that it was thought imprudent to follow them over the River. In our way back we removed Col Boon and those that were with him down near the falls. From the falls the whole body were marched to the Spring Station from thence to the Crab Orchard from thence to Englishe’s Station [Charles English's Station on Dix River SE of Crab Orchard KY] thence to the head of Cumberland thence to Powells Valley [Powell Valley in VA] from thence to New River thence to Greenbriar [sic: Greenbrier River] thence to the Clover Licks [in present Pocahontas County WV] thence to Tigers Valley [sic: Tygart Valley] thence to Rogers Fort from whence he started and received from Capt. Ferrell a discharge which he has lost. In this tour he served Eleven Months.

Again in April 1781 he entered into the service of the United States as an Indian Spy under Capt Thomas Chaney his comrade was Charles Harris who was then about forty years of age and who he supposes is now dead. His route was from Coons Fort [near present Enterprise or Killarm WV] across the West Fork then up Teeverbaugh [sic: Tevebaugh] Creek to Teetricks Fork thence over to Buffaloe [Buffalo] Creek thence up to the Warrior Fork thence to Owen Davy’s Fork [sic: Owen Davy Creek near Curtisville] thence to the head of Bideman Creek [probably Bingamon Creek] from thence to ten mile creek thence to the Fort. This route they travelled in three days – then rested one day and sometimes two days and then round again and so continued to travel and watch for the Indians for the space of six months and was then regularly discharged and received from his Captain a certificate of his services which he gave to Col Wilson to send on and get his pay and that is the last he has heard of it and got no pay.

Again in the summer of 1782 at Ten Mile in the same county he entered the service of the United States as a drafted Malitia Man it being the turn of the class to which he belonged to go out. He was under Capt Thomas Chaney and stationed at Robisons – Wilson was the Colonel. He served two months and was dismissed but got no discharge.

In the fall of 1782 he went into Kentucky to view the country and at Washington he again entered the service of the United States as a Volunteer under Capt Helm. He was appointed Sergeant and acted as such. He marched from Washington to Cabin Creek thence to Kemrikenich [sic: Kinniconick] thence to Fox Creek then round back for provisions and continued to march on this rout for two months and was dismissed. He received a certificate of service from his Capt. which he sold to a man in Kentuckey whose name he has forgotten.

He knows of the existence of no documentary evidence by which his services can be proven nor of no person whose testimony he can procure to prove his services except the deposition of Mr. Barnes herewith transmitted

He hereby relinquishes every claim whatever to any pension or annuity except the present and declares his name is not upon the pension roll of any agency in any state

After the war he removed to Harrison County Virginia where he resided till about the year 1820 when he removed to his present residence where he has resided ever since

Clear creek 10th May 1836

Dear Sir [James L. Edwards, Commissioner of Pensions],

Father has received a certificate from the Honourable William Patterson, for his services a certificate to the amount of twenty dollars, per year [for six months service] together with a letter informing him that it was all and the best that he could do for him. For you did not see yourself clare in doing any more Now when I reflect on hearing my Father tell of the many difficulties, dangers, fatigues, and loss of property sustained by the Indians; not only while in the servises of the united states but untill the termination of the Indian war – Knowing myself by information not from my father only but from others and by one who served with him – that he has performed those servises as he himself declares – And it seems to be hard that now in his old age; that he should for the want of positive proofe, be deprived of the benefit of the act for the relief of surviving revolutionary soldiers; and fail in obtaining pay for more than two thirds of his time – now the law says that the applicant shall make the best proof in his power, and that the traditinary evidence is deemed very important – my Father thought for some time that he would go to Harrison County Va to obtain all the proof in his power; but on account of bodily infirmity he has declined; and was in hopes that he would obtain his Pension without so much trouble – I would inform you also that I have not been able to tend to his business, on account of being lame and afflicted for many years, with an inward weakness and my debilities at present, are so great that I am not capable of doing any ordinary business, whatever – which make me more anxious to obtain my Fathers rite – as it would be of great use to us in our present situation –

And now I wish you to inform me whether there is yet any chance to obtain pay for the whole time of his servises – whether it will not suffice if I shall get the opinion of the old settlers in the nabourhood in Harrison County V.a. where he formerly lived for many years; and that there is no doubts existing there – I also think that I can find two or three men who are worthy of credit and who was personally acquainted with the man who served with Father when he was an Indian Spy and who will certify they have heard him related their services which I think ought to be satisfactory enough with what has been all ready done please sir to send me a few lines and inform me whether these circumstances will not be evidence enough – your compliance Dear sir will oblige/ your friend and Humble servant/ Fred. T. Freeman

NOTES:
There is no explanation in the file for why Freeman was pensioned for only six months. It is known, however, that the Pension Commissioner often insisted that militia tours were for only three months each, and he often disregarded service on the frontier against Indians as not being military in nature. For details see my appendix in the pension application of David W. Sleeth S6111.

A Treasury-Department document states that the children of Samuel Freeman received the final pension payment up to the day of his death, 18 May 1846.

On 22 May 1853 Job T. Freeman of Hancock County OH inquired about an increase in the pension of his father, Samuel Freeman.
