NOTE: On 9 Mar 1837 Sally Meador, “aged seventy five years some time in this month,” applied for a pension stating that she married Joel Meador on 13 June 1780, and he died on 7 Apr 1834. Bennet Meador made a supporting deposition. On 15 Sep 1837 Isham Meador, about 75, deposed that he had been present when his brother, Joel Meadow, was married to Sally Meador by a Baptist preacher named William Johnson in the part of Bedford County that became Franklin County in 1786. On 16 Sep 1837 Job Meador, about 73, deposed that he had also been present at the marriage of his brother, Joel Meador. On 15 May 1838 Sally Meador submitted as evidence of the marriage a fragment of the family record kept in a Bible by Joel Meador and transcribed below. She added the following: “The date of 1794 was the date of her seventh child and from that circumstance and her recolection about the ages of her children as well as the time they were born she is certain her first was born in the month of August 1781. She had been married about fifteen months to the best of her recollection before the first child was born. Her other children were Ann, Lydia, Jeptha, Milley, Sally, Bennet, Banister, Ruth and Joseph. The seventh Banister whose birth she thinks was in 1794 fixes the Period above stated as there was two years between some and more than two years between others previous to the birth of the seventh.”
